

A tiny village located in one of the most scenically beautiful regions of the island. The impressive and dramatic coastline is a direct contrast from the inland green countryside and distant sierras. A perfect base to explore the very best of the magnificent island interior.

Tucked away in the top corner of the island, with traditional thatched houses standing in the midst of fields and cultivated terraces, this area is well known for its beautiful unspoilt countryside. Precipitous cliffs, volcanic rock crags and gushing levada water cascade into the sea.
