

Pousadas

Pousadas de Portugal is a chain of luxury, traditional or historical hotels, originally created in the early 1940s by a Government Minister and formerly run by the state. They are now run by the Pestana group. We are proud to feature the complete range.

Pousadas are divided into three categories;

● Lisbon & the Coast

This south central region of Portugal comprises the capital city, Lisbon, as well as the coastal resorts of Estoril, Cascais and Sintra.

● Porto & the North

This traditional region encompasses the city of Porto, inland along the Douro Valley and north to the border with Spain.

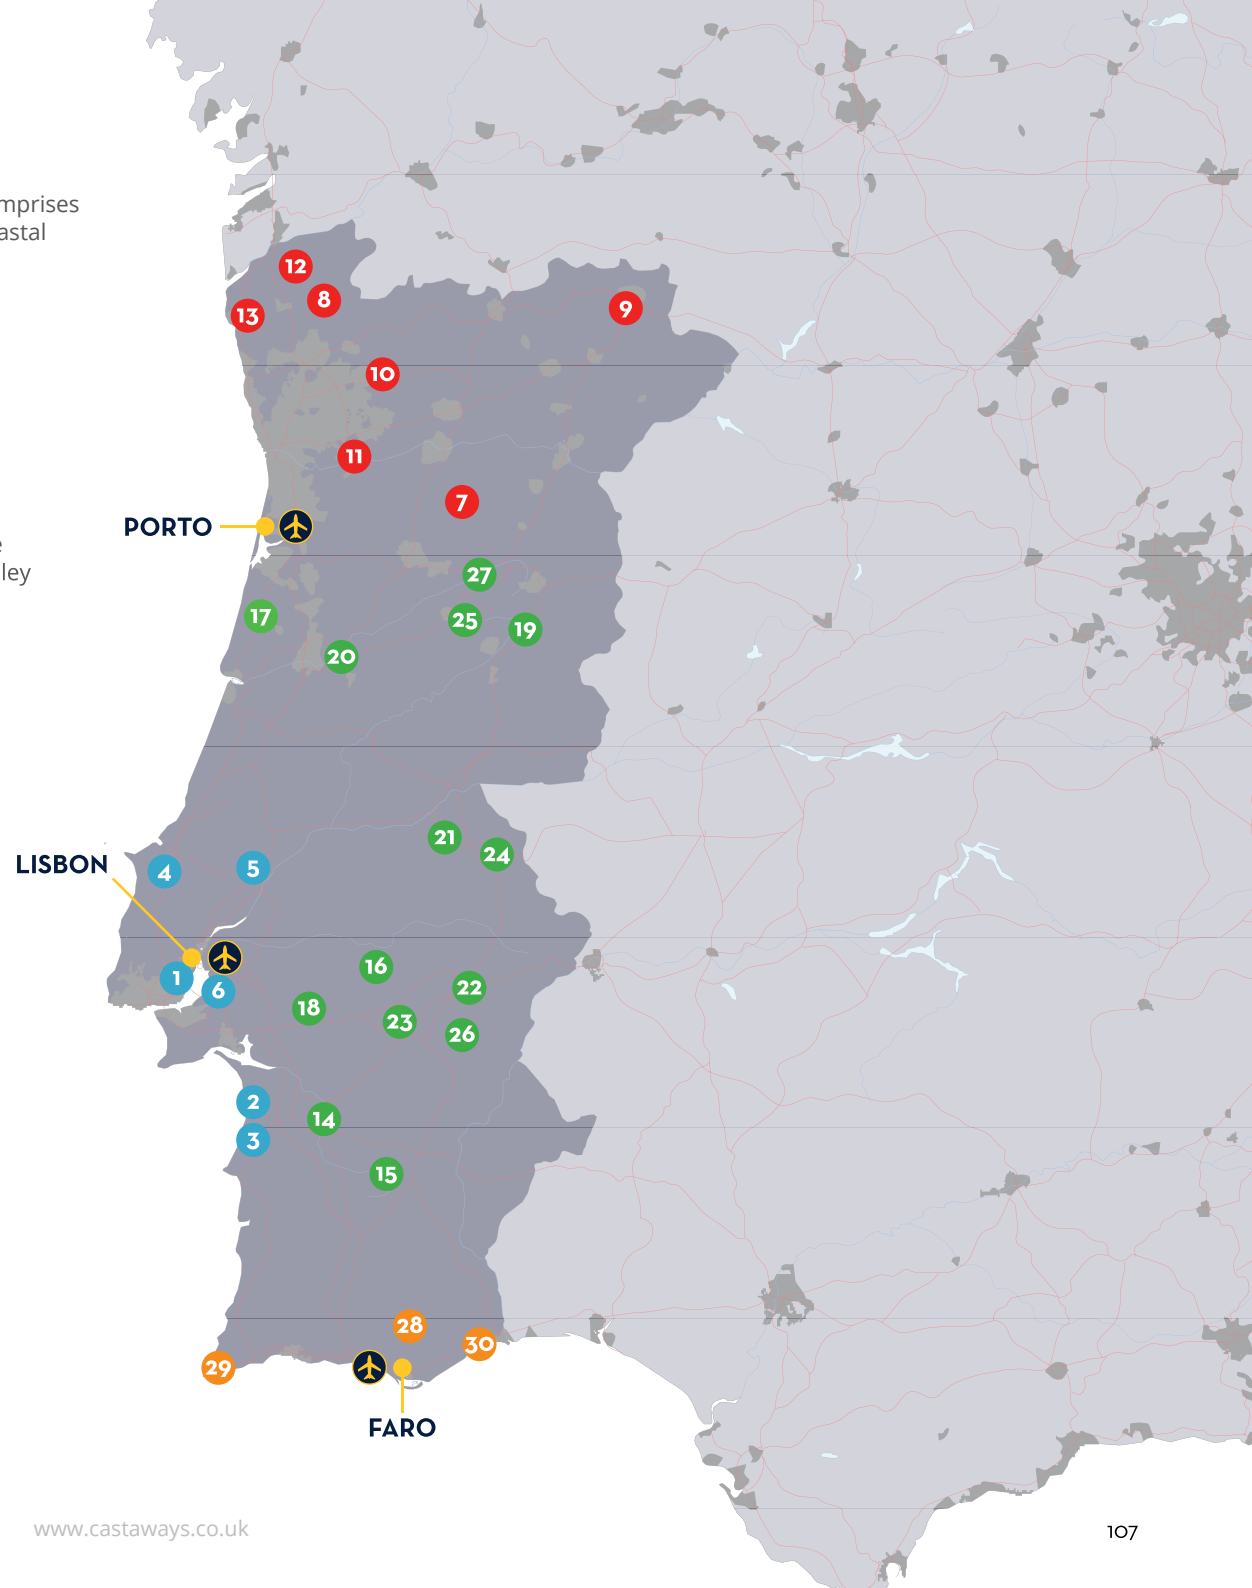

● Central Portugal & Alentejo

The Alentejo is an area of historical and cultural interest; the interior of this region is mountainous and has many forests of pine and chestnut trees.

● The Algarve

Portugal's southernmost region is known for its sunny Mediterranean climate and its beach and golf resorts.
